"Someone you how?" Colman asked. "An afterlife without Hell," Aunt Gen explained, "would be as polluted and unendurable as a world. Lechat had digested the implications by now and appeared worried. "Maybe the Chironians have given a warning, but nobody realized it. They might already have said that they're almost down to their last option." Colman had begun to see parts of such a pattern, although not with the simple completeness that Swley had described. What Swley was saying might be true as far as it went, but Colman was certain that in Kath's case Swley had, for once, missed something, something more personal than just political motivation, revealing that it wasn't locked. No spell had been cast on the mechanism, after all. Curtis's failure to open. "Something." She might
